Vanished Darien
Interesting Graveyard
To Fight the Flu
Man, Queer Animal
By Arthur Brisbane

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 18.—The Savannah Press says President Coolidge will probably visit Sapelo Island, off the Georgia coast not far from here, just after Christmas. Governor Corbin has invited him to use his magnificent residence on the 25,000-acre island which Corbin owns.

If the President goes he will be glad of it. Georgia will welcome him from one border to the other. He ought to come by motor and see the beautiful State as a whole.

The drive would take him through this fine old city. And, at Darien, 90 miles away, reached by a fine stretch of highway as any on earth, California included, he would stop and muse on vanished greatness. He would pass the Bank of Darien, once the biggest south of Philadelphia, with a capital of $1,000,000, now a tiny country bank of $15,000. Once thousands of ships came to Darien for Georgia pine and cotton, bringing as ballast stones that now line the shore. Darien, which gave its name to Keats' Darien at Panama, settled by Scotchmen that came first to Georgia, would not let the railroad come in. "The river is good enough," said Darien, and died in spite of its fine harbor.

Wise Savannah that knew better, now has both harbor and railroad.

It's impossible to see everything in America, but everyone ought to see Sapelo Island, its beautiful forests, ancient forts, 400 years old, ruins of Spanish missions, of oyster shell masonry, ten feet thick, cells for the monks, only five by six feet. Tents of shrimp boats, bringing in hundreds of bushels of fish at a load, and Geeshee negroes, possessing their own special language, suspected by other negroes "because they talk queer."

The President, in his walks on the north end of the beautiful island, would visit, with reverence, the graveyard of the negroes and admire the peaceful and religious side of the negro character. On each of many graves he would see a lamp, a candle, and a cup. The dead lie in the earth, at the right time, the lamp to light his way, the cup to refresh him, after such a long sleep.

On one graveyard, written in the concrete where the stone was lost, he would read: "My memory of my first husband, Carl Hilary, born April 20th, 1887, died September 11th, 1919, age 32. At rest." On another, "Gessie Jackson, he died in faith. Sleep on, son."

More than 400,000 new cases of influenza in 30 states, the epidemic moving eastward. The best remedy for influenza, oxygen, fresh air. The blood must fight the germ, and oxygen to the food and strength of the blood.

Strange is the nature of man. In New York a 16-year-old girl whom he loved. He said she wanted to live him. That is his excuse.

At Brunswick, Ga., Walter Rawlin, in prison, saw his wife who complained had him for wife-beating. He seized a carving knife, dashed from the prison, overtook his wife, stabbed her several times. His excuse: "I loved my wife so, that I would rather see her dead than with somebody else."

The fair Jessica Brown, a stage beauty, once married to Lord Northwick, yesterday married Mr. Cornelius. Lord Northwick, her retired husband, was to America led by his ambition to be the fifth husband of Peggy Hopkins. And so it goes.

Herbert Hoover has left Montevideo on the battleship Utah, bound for Rio de Janeiro, still preparing a great reception. What probably would interest Mr. Hoover most in Brazil is a gigantic waterfall with more power than Niagara, far from power there, now going to waste.

Science will find a way to carry that power to places where it can be utilized, or industry will carry factories to the power. And some day airplanes on the way from the North to the South Pole may pick up "wireless power" from Niagara on the Canadian border, and another supply from Brazil's big waterfall.

VICTORY FOR MEASURE IS PREDICTED ON NEXT VOTE OF COUNCILMEN

By BERT FORD
Spurred by a rising tide of public indignation, President Thomas H. Green today called a special meeting of Boston City Council for Friday at 2 p. m. to act on the professional Sunday Sports measure, which was mysteriously tabled by the Council on Monday.

"I am confident that the order will be passed without further delay," said President Green, after making a telephone round-up of the Councilors for the special session.

Other members, some of whom are expected to be on the scene, were as sanguine of prompt adoption of the measure.

The development was a right-about-face for the Council, which on Monday had voted to postpone the measure until the next meeting, which was mysteriously tabled by the Council on Monday.

There have been many detractors from the Council since its formation. It is now a body of 12 members, elected by the people.

BIG AUTO THEFT RING BARED BY POLICE HERE

The operations of a powerful ring of auto thieves with headquarters throughout the East were disclosed today by the Boston police after five months' investigation.

At least one girl is connected with the gang and has driven cars from Boston to Pennsylvania for disposal. From information gleaned during this investigation police today arrested Heron Gilmore, 31, of Somerville, on a charge of larceny of five automobiles in Boston, Providence and Cambridge.

Gilmore's brother-in-law is said to be in the charge. Police had no doubt they are members of the ring, but their arrest comes about as a result of the investigation.

Federal authorities are also aware of the ring. They have been working on it for some time.

STOCKS ADVANCE IN CHRISTMAS MARKET

Some brilliant gains were made in Wall Street today, with the stock market putting out its best Christmas season "window dressing." Case "Thrilling" soared $38 a share, Chicago Pneumatic Tool was up around $14 and International Nickel gained over $5 to a new high.

Montgomery Ward (new) sold at a high of above $114 for a gain of over $8.

Houston Oil climbed $1. up $19 from its low last week. Coppers were strong in anticipation of the red metal's rise to 17 cents a pound. Wheat soared over $15 a share. American Smelting jumped $15. New highs were set by National Bolls, Hess preferred, Grunty Corp., Electric Auto Canada, Pittsburgh Steel, Electric Auto and Elcom.

KELLOGG PACT AND MOSES' CONDITIONS' REPORTED TO SENATE

ELLEN ROSE DOCTRINE

- 1-That the treaty does not impair or abridge the right of the United States to defend its territory or other vital interests in accordance with the traditional American policy;
- 2-That the treaty imposes no obligation on the United States to resort to coercive or punitive measures against any offending nation;
- 3-That the treaty does not obligate the United States to the conditions of any treaty to which the United States is not a party.

The resolution was modified today by eliminating any direct reference to the Monroe doctrine.

A final clause in the resolution would direct the Secretary of State to forward a copy to the representatives of the other powers.

REVEREND LADIES FIGHT
A battle reminiscent of that of Senator Lodge and the League of Nations drew out of the more recent World Court fight going in progress.

The treaty was reported to the Senate today by Sen. William E. Borah (R., Idaho), a former irreconcilable.

At the same time Senator George H. Moses (R., of New Hampshire) reported the "resolution of explanation" which has the support of Head of Missouri and David of Delaware, Democrats, and McLean of Connecticut, Republicans.

ACTION AFTER REFUSE
Senator Borah, after consultation with the leaders decided to postpone until after the Christmas recess ending January 3 any motion to consider the treaty.

The administration meanwhile was hopeful of rushing enactment of the "navy" bill before the treaty is ratified. But opponents of the navy measure, which provides for construction of 15 new cruisers and an aircraft carrier, plan to block this measure.

With the treaty ratified, the opposition hopes to force a heavy reduction in the proposed expenditure on new warships if they cannot defeat it.

The Borah committee also today reviewed six confidential treaties to which the United States is a party, including the Kellogg pact, approved within three days. The confidential treaties are with Albania, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Lithuania, Finland and Austria. Arbitration treaties with the same countries were ratified by the Senate yesterday.

WOMAN HURT AS COW GOES ON RAMPAGE

Winifred Runne, 56, of 31 Street St., Brighton, she was tossed 15 feet in the air by the maddest cow and suffered fractures to both knees and possibly internal injuries. She is at St. Elizabeth's hospital.

COWBOYS IN RODEO
The cow, in her hunt for liberty, had a poor time of it. All in all, police shots whistled past her or shuddered into her back.

When she was almost opposite the entrance to the Brighton Congregational Church a driver truck driver, suddenly inspired himself her on the ramp and knocked her into the churchyard.

Cowboys from the stockyards surrounded her in the ecclesiastical terrain, but the cow, turning, forced the cowboys into trees, where they hatched precariously and viciously while the cow, setting a new course, wheeled and made off, coasting, into a quarry.

Here Officer Burke, still smarting under the indignity of a sudden removal from his traffic box when the cow charged the stand, pumped the bat and decried bulled into the bottom.

RUNS WILD IN STREETS.
With Officer Burke in the chase were charged Officers John C. McGuire, Joseph Haver and Gallahan, all of the Brighton station, being on foot and in more of bulk than Officer Burke they were handicapped in chasing the ultimate due in the wild cow.

Some of their shots took hold, but not in the several spots where a Plymouth cow "lives". The cow, after belting the stock-

SEEKS LAW CHANGE.
He urged repeal of the consolidated return provision of the income tax law under which the Treasury is authorized to return to an individual or company in one sum taxes collected over a period of years and found to be in excess of lawful requirements.

He asserted the steel corporation had been allowed $10,000,000 in refunds on taxes it should have paid in 1917 and 1918, which he stated was made by the company until February 12, 1919.

Garner made a spirited attack on the Secretary of the Treasury, accusing him of making misleading and what seemed to be "false" statements of the condition of the Nation's finances.

UNPLEASANT IN DEFICIT.
Last summer, he said, the treasury estimated there would be a $4,000,000 deficit at the end of the year. At the opening of this session of Congress the President submitted a $27,000,000 surplus, "and six days later we were informed that we face a deficit."

"In every instance when we have had tax reduction under consideration," he continued, "the reports from the treasury have forecast deficits. The estimates are made to fit the arguments."

Garner asserted the secretary could, through settlement of tax cases, make a deficit in the treasury $100,000,000 in any year he wanted to.

Making their way through the ship they found electric lights, and the heater still burning after 40 hours since the ship was beached to the bottom. The bridge which was thought to have been damaged in the raising was found to be intact.

Lieut. Comdr. Dunbar said the 84 would be towed by the rescue ship Falcon, from which operations were directed, to the New London submarine base where further experiments with the bulk would be decided upon.

The testing of the accessibility to all parts of the lifting hooks or "paw eyes" was completed when the 84 was brought up, although it may be sunk again for further experiments with this device.

Railway Worker Killed by Sleeve

Killed by Sleeve

Richard McGraw, 51, of 8 Avon St., Wakefield, employed by the Eastern Massachusetts Railway, Chelsea, was killed when he was struck on the head by a piece of machinery which fell from a crane. A preliminary report said that the accident occurred at 10:30 a. m. today.

The vessel came up and straightened out in 10 minutes. The submarine was sunk by flooding the ballast tanks in the engine room only and how the motor room took water was not immediately determined. Two possible causes for the accident were suggested—a leak in a wall of the compartment or a leaking gasket on the door separating the engine room from the motor room.

tin served to further strengthen the general feeling throughout England that His Majesty had passed the worst part of his illness and was now definitely on the road to recovery.

In palace circles it was believed today that His Majesty's condition was better than it has been at any time within the last 48 hours. The two favorable bulletins issued yesterday served to strengthen England's hope for the King's recovery considerably and entirely offset the alarm caused by the disquieting bulletin issued Monday night.

The King's condition is admittedly still serious, however, and palace officials were emphatic in pointing out that fact while deprecating the tendency to misinterpret as bad news all bulletins which did not tell of continued improvement.

It now appears that His Majesty's recovery, depends almost wholly upon his ability to maintain his strength. To this end any treatment has been administered again.

Christmas Plans Proceed

Pointing to the fact that His Majesty has battled through an extremely bad period during the last few days apparently without the aid of sedatives, newspapers today advised their readers to go ahead with their Christmas preparations without undue fears. They warn, however, that fluctuations may be expected anytime and caution against either extreme optimism or alarm.

S4 BATTERED PUMP

Aboard U. S. S. Falcon, off Block Island, N. I., via Block Island Radio Station, Dec. 8 (AP)—The submarine S-4, which remained down by the stern in 75 feet of water when attempts to raise her with new lifting hooks were made last night, was brought to the surface at 8:45 a. m. today.

The craft had been deliberately sunk without a crew at 12:1 a. m. Monday.

Although officers last night announced that a third position would be used to float the 235-foot bulk, soon after daybreak they entered the forward torpedo loading hatch which was high out of water and dry, and crossed through the other compartments to the motor room. This compartment was found flooded, but from the control room, which was dry, the water was blown out of the motor room.

PUMP IN AIR
The vessel came up and straightened out in 10 minutes. The submarine was sunk by flooding the ballast tanks in the engine room only and how the motor room took water was not immediately determined.

Two possible causes for the accident were suggested—a leak in a wall of the compartment or a leaking gasket on the door separating the engine room from the motor room.

Lieut. Comdr. Palmer H. Dunbar, who directed the test, said the S-4 could have been raised with the use of a hand-lowered bag off Block Island where Long Island Sound and the Atlantic Ocean meet.

Foreign Missions Cable Prayers for King From Hub

Prayers for the recovery of King George were cabled from Boston to London today.

The American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, representing the Congregational churches of America, expressed a devout hope for the recovery of Britain's monarch in a message to the London Missionary Society, its sister Congregational group.

The cablegram, signed by the prudential committee, said:

"The American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, now quarter of whose fields of work are under British possessions, devoutly joins in prayers for the recovery of the King-Emperor."

ing on the case because of the interstate disposal system that the auto ring employs, according to the Boston authorities.

The Hub police have traced 14 stolen cars to this ring and have discovered that all were sold through connections maintained by the local thieves at Dover, N. H., Montpelier, Vt., Worcester, Providence, Washington, D. C., and some Pennsylvania city as yet unidentified.

Of these automobiles, 14 have been recovered and 100 are still missing. Missing is doubtful because of the speed with which all cars were transported to distant places and disposed of, according to the police.

The Boston ring is believed by police to have a connection with similar gangs in other large New England cities, all using the same organization for disposal of the machines they stole.

Children were arrested by Inspector Timothy Sheehan and John Wilentz and Sgt. Edward Blake. He was photographed and fingerprinted at headquarters.

FAINT HOPE FOR SIX TRAPPED IN COAL MINE

Drakesboro, Ky., Dec. 19 (AP)—Trapped in Mine No. 2 of the Black Diamond Coal Company here for more than 14 hours, the fate of six men today remained unknown as a rescue crew dug frantically to get at them.

The men were entombed at 7:30 o'clock last night by a fall of slate and it was early today before a rescue crew could reach the scene and start after them. Four men escaped and reported that little property loss was caused by the accident.

The men were trapped, however, more than a mile from the mine entrance, and it was feared the resultant gases may have snuffed out the lives.

J. B. James, assistant mine manager, said, however, that from the man's position he thought two of them might have a chance to live. They are Cleveland Bolling and Vincent Nelson, machine cutters. The other four trapped are Roy Hall, James Sullivan, Arthur Davis and Leonard Epper.

SAYS HE FORCED HER TO PLEDGE ELOPEMENT

Nora Gleason, 14, of Bell's court, South Boston, was forced to kneel in the street and swear to elope with a 16-year-old "caveman" whom the girl testified today before Judge Edward L. Logan.

Her alleged suitor, Michael Ketta, also of Bell's court, was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction for assault and battery. He appealed.

The girl told the court that Ketta, who works with her, has been bothering her for months with his unwelcome overhauling.

He stopped her at D and Silver st., South Boston, she said, and threatened her that it was time he and she ran away together. He threatened to kill her if she did not agree. To get rid of her, she pretended to be a party to the elopement.

"Get down on your knees and swear it," Ketta ordered.

Judge Edward L. Logan found Ketta guilty of assault and battery. "All lies," said the prisoner.

at $1000 from his employers.

McCooty, who lived on Compton st., Roxbury, explained to Inspector James Egan and James Driscoll, who arrested him, that he wanted to buy some Christmas presents for his three youngsters, who are in the custody of his wife. He also explained that it was necessary for him to steal to eat.

According to officials for whom he worked, McCooty stole a suit of clothing a day. In addition they said he purloined mufflers, neckties, shirts, gloves, and other householdery.

McCooty was locked up, instead of playing Santa Claus to three little McCootys he will likely eat his Christmas dinner in jail, as he was unable to furnish bail.

I mean

at FIRST, when ARAB suggested it I thought it was an obnoxious idea but after Pondering it vaguely I decided to try it OUT and my dear ARAB sounded HEAVILY on the FLOOR with this old one. Open in front of him and told me to CLOSE my EYES and POINT at a NAME, and my dear Pxy-wups was too PERFECTLY DARLING at this point because he believed JUST like he KNEW what it was all ABOUT and kept WAGGING his cute TAIL, and kind of ENCOURAGING us with little WHINES and GULtingings—you know the type! Actually, my dear, I was too THRILLED, so years later I POINTED at some NAME and then FRANTICALLY asked ARAB what it WAS and he said 'JONES!' Can you COPE with it? I mean I THOUGHT I'd have hysterics because as I said before in convulsive ARAB, 'JONES' isn't a very unusual NAME, my dear, but NOTHING HADN'T, ARAB said it WAS an unusual name for a DOG, then I mean I mean I have to admit I had no THERE, my dear—I mean I actually DO!"

MACDONALD MADE A PUBLIC WORKS LEAD PLANE IN 200 FT. FALL; TWO ARE SAVED

Williams, who until the appointment was announced, believed that he would be named.
The appointment—a plan for the secretary—came as a surprise at the State House. It was generally believed the Governor would reward MacDonald with some office before he himself retired, but no one ever associated MacDonald with the Public Works position. The job is regarded as one of the finest at the State House, carrying a salary of $18,000 a year.

MacDonald's appointment was only one of a large number made by the Governor.

Henry L. Herdman of Newton was named as chairman of the board of trustees of the Boston Elevated.

Other trustees appointed were George H. Johnson of Boston, Gen. Charles H. Cole, late Democratic candidate for the governorship.

Stanley R. May of Brookline and Edward E. Whiting, Johnson and Gen. Cole moved Winthrop M. Duffin, who did not desire reappointment, and J. Frank O'Hara, who was regarded as the labor representative.

RAILWAY TRUSTEES NAMED.
Arthur G. Wadlett of Lynn was appointed chairman of the board of trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railways, while Fred J. Crowley of Lowell was named as a member of the board.

Walter S. Morgan of Sharon, a member of the accounting firm of Morgan & Morgan, was named as comptroller and member of the State commission of administration and finance, succeeding James McBurney, who did not seek reappointment.

Carl A. Raymond of Melrose was named as budget commissioner and Samuel Ross of New Bedford was named associate commissioner of labor and industry.

Richard J. Lane of Boston was appointed a member of the Finance Commission.

Frank A. Brooks of Belmont was appointed chairman of the state board of patrol.

BAZELEY REAPPOINTED.
William A. L. Bazeley of Uxbridge was reappointed commissioner of conservation. This appointment had been hanging over for two years.

Roscoe Walsworth, Revere, was appointed special justice of Chelsea District Court, vice Justice Chaffin, promoted; Joseph M. Curley, Chelsea, reappointed clerk of that court; Arthur J. Seidridge, Boston, reappointed to Boston licensing board.

Charles H. Dow was named chairman of the Division of Metropolitan Planning, vice Henry T. Harrison. Mayor Ralph S. Bauer of Lynn was reappointed to that board; John H. Shurtliff was named chief of inspection of the Department of Public Safety; Patrick J. McMahon, Westfield, reappointed a civil service commissioner; Edward S. Allen, Watertown, reappointed to the commission for the blind.

Walks Out of Court
With His 2 "Wives"

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—Theodore Coleman, 44, in court in Brooklyn today, charged with bigamy, walked out with a wife on each arm.

"I love my husband and am willing he shall have the other woman. I don't want him to go to jail," said Mrs. J. who is 42 and mother of five children. She married Coleman July 9, 1924. He left her six years ago, she says.

On May 4, last, it is charged, he married Edith Jones, 30, in Brooklyn.

Magistrate Rudolph adjourned the case until Wednesday to have both women before the grand jury.

AWAYERS WILL TEST MUSEUM ART 'FAKE'

The fate of the Sabella Sarcophagus, which for three years was an odd view in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts until the authenticity of the work was questioned, now rests in the hands of the director of the museum, Edward J. Hinton, and the museum lawyers.

It will be up to the lawyers to determine whether the tomb, which now resides in the basement of the museum, is the work of Otto von Fiesole, 15th century genius, or of Alois Bonanni, an obscure Roman artist, who has confessed that many of the so-called masterpieces found in Europe and America are products of his workshop.

By a unanimous vote the trustees of the museum decided to turn the entire matter over to the director and attorneys. They are empowered either to return the tomb to the dealer in Rome from whom it was purchased, or, if satisfied of its authenticity, to have it restored to the floor place it occupied in the museum.

It has been determined definitely that Europe and America have been flooded with spurious "masterpieces." This was disclosed when Donna brought suit against a Roman firm dealing in antiques, charging they did not pay him the correct price for his work. He declared at the trial, that he never will work with the idea of having them palm off as old masterpieces, but discovered by this that the dealers were doing this.

Hunting Cause of New Hampshire Earthquakes

Concord, N. H., Dec. 19 (AP)—Federal Geological Survey is gathering data by which it hopes to develop definite knowledge as to the cause of recent earth tremors in New Hampshire. Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the survey, revealed today. He said confidential information had already been secured by Arthur Keith, a representative of the survey.

GBSON'S NO. 4 HAS ENOUGH

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—A sensational trial came to light here today when Mrs. William Preston Gibson, fourth wife of the author and playwright, was reported to be establishing residence in Reno preparatory to going for a divorce.

Mr. Gibson, a member of a wealthy Pennsylvania family, who won a divorce last June from Mrs. Alice Stegmaier, naming as grounds, in New York and according to rumor, plans to marry the fourth wife when she gets her divorce.

Mrs. Stegmaier entered no defense to her husband's suit, contending that the divorce was valid in Pennsylvania and promising to let Gibson arbitrate for non-support if he ever returns.

HUB TO ENJOY SUNNY SKIES

While the far West today shivered in subzero temperatures and the northern border of the country from Minnesota, Maryland by under a blanket of snow, Greater Boston was officially predicted to enjoy a continuance of current sunny skies.

Southwest winds again carried the temperature today from the sultry to the north, with light expected shift to the northwest tomorrow, slightly lower, but sunny marks will continue.

Seek Amnesty for 1500 War Law Violators

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—A resolution to restore the rights of citizenship to approximately 1500 men and women convicted under the war-time espionage act for utterances disapproving the war was introduced today by Representative Berger, Socialist, Wisconsin.

Question Mark' on Second Leg of Flight

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 19 (AP)—The tri-motored army plane "Question Mark," destined for a trial of the limit of endurance for transport planes, took off here today for Montgomery, Ala., and Shreveport, La., on the second leg of a flight from Washington to San Diego, Cal.

The "Question Mark" will pick up refueling planes No. 1 which flew to Montgomery yesterday after accompanying the transport to Atlanta. No refueling attempts will be made en route to Shreveport, but the ships will fly in refueling formations to acquire the plane with details.

Tests on the Pacific coast will start at dawn New Year's day. The ship is expected to remain in the air for ten days or longer.

REPORT HOOVER SUSPECTED OF 'UFF' POLICY

Buenos Aires, Dec. 19 (AP)—La Epoca, a newspaper which is generally regarded as a spokesman for President Friguen, said today that Herbert Hoover in conversing with the Argentine president told him that in the future the United States Government would never intervene in the internal affairs of other countries, that it would respect their sovereignty and would recognize their rights to manage their own problems.

President Friguen was quoted as saying he believed Mr. Hoover was not in accord with the ideas of President Friguen.

The newspaper said the subject of intervention by the United States in the affairs of other American nations was brought up by Senator Friguen. Mr. Hoover explained that the intervention by the United States has not been undertaken with the design of protecting American economic interests, but was for safeguarding the lives of American citizens.

President Friguen was understood to have alluded to views of intervention expressed by President Coolidge in his speeches and Mr. Hoover was said to have replied that Mr. Coolidge had been obliged to proceed as he had done in view of the circumstances of the individual case.

COOLIDGE ATTITUDE

The same President Friguen then declared that he believed Mr. Hoover was not in accord with the ideas of President Coolidge. Friguen added that Mr. Hoover had answered that Mr. Coolidge had adopted his attitude solely on account of the circumstances involved.

'Great Acting' Days Gone, Says Sothern

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—E. H. Sothern contends that actors today do not have opportunity to develop under conditions which make for great acting. "My father," he said, "had played 631 roles when he was 21. Sir Henry Irving before he went to London at the age of 30 had played more than 600 roles."

Streets Decorated

The Avenida Rio Branco, the main artery of the city, along which the movement of business, municipal theaters, school of art and Supreme Court of law are located, will be illuminated by Mr. Hoover's house, the Stars and Stripes and the green and yellow of Brazil will be displayed profusely. Luncheons and dinners have been arranged for the party.

There will be a motor trip to Petropolis, the summer capital, which is a short drive above Rio de Janeiro. The American Chamber of Commerce at Rio de Janeiro, in the coffee district, is sending a large delegation to Rio Janeiro to greet the President-elect.

Berger himself was indicted five times for alleged acts of disloyalty during the war and was sentenced to 30 years in the penitentiary by Judge Keesee, M. Lavin in Chicago. The verdict was later reversed by the supreme court.

His measure requests the President to proclaim a full pardon and amnesty with restoration of civil rights to all persons who, during the war, were convicted of utterances in speech or writing deemed to be prejudicial to the conduct of the war, or of conspiracy to violate war laws in which no acts of violence were involved.

Berger said not one of the 1500 men and women convicted had committed an act of violence. He said that a general proclamation of amnesty followed the Civil War.

SUSPECT HELD IN THEFT OF 'L' PAYROLL

Charged with larceny of $4948 in the holdup of a Boston Elevated rapid automobile at Washington and Springfield sts., South End, Daniel E. Baker of Roxbury was held today when he arrived in municipal court.

The case was continued to Dec. 27, by which time police hope to have in custody two more men for questioning in connection with the daylight robbery.

One of these men is named by police as John Kitzinger, 25, of Dedchester, leader of the notorious "switch gang" of Roxbury and a police-alleged bootlegger.

The warrant charging larceny against Baker was granted by Judge Parmenter just before Baker was arrested before the same judge, the prosecution being handled by Traffic Officer Edward J. Brago, who captured Baker at the scene.

MAJESTIC DUE ON XMAS DAY

Northampton, Eng., Dec. 19 (AP)—The liner Majestic sailed on today after being held up by fog. Company officials said the boat would not reach New York until Christmas Day, so her thousand American passengers and many to be taken aboard at Cherbourg have the prospect of eating their Christmas dinner aboard ship.

The fog mail about the liner is not likely to be distributed until after Christmas Day.

3 Burned to Death In New York Fires

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—Three persons were burned to death in two tenement house fires here early today, another is dying and three others are missing. None was identified.

Two of the victims perished when a five-story tenement on St. Nicholas ave. was swept by flames.

Three hundred others were rescued from their beds.

A six-year-old child died in the other fire, in a tenement on the East ave. A woman resident of the building is dying and three others are missing. Firemen carried members of the families to safety.

LEAGUE LOOKS TO HOOVER TO AID ARMS CUT

Paris, Dec. 19 (AP)—Efforts toward a reduction of world armaments, including naval forces, will be vigorously renewed by the League of Nations immediately after the inauguration of Herbert Hoover, provided the United States approves provisional plans which were formulated today.

The plans were formulated at a meeting between Sir J. L. London, minister to the Netherlands to France, who is president of the preparatory commission of the League, and Eric C. Gibson, director of the League's disarmament section.

It was decided to convene a committee of experts at Geneva on March 11 to discuss control of the manufacture of armaments. A tentative agreement was concluded to summon the preparatory disarmament commission after Easter during the first fortnight in April. The date of this meeting will be announced when the American government approves.

Since the opinion exists in some circles that the commission should not risk a fiasco similar to the last session and that the League should wait for the removal of some naval difficulties, it is conceivable that a further postponement may be decided upon.

Some observers hope that the delegates of the naval powers can reach an agreement, concerning the types of cruisers and submarines to be limited, during private conversations in the course of the general negotiations at Geneva.

NEGROES GO TO UNIONS

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—Views of the American Federation of Labor on the organization of labor unions among negroes have been placed before the national interracial conference, now in session here.

Labor unionists are more willing to organize the negroes than the negroes are to be organized. John P. Frey of the Federation said in an address before the conference, after remarking that the Federation had been charged with not having been sufficiently active in organization work among the negroes.

A large part of the opposition to efforts to unionize the negroes originates with the negro leaders themselves, he declared.

Hungarians Vote to 'Gag' Newspapers

Vienna, Dec. 19 (AP)—Disagreements over Budapest today resulted in the adoption of the Hungarian Parliament of a bill which the Premier and speaker of the House are empowered to forbid the publication of newspapers of any matter relating to speeches in Parliament which has not previously been discussed officially to the parliamentary records.

Social-Democrats, opposing the measure as a gag rule, however, refused to participate in the final voting.

Wakefield Man Is Crushed to Death

Richard McGrath, 52, of Wakefield, was killed in the repair shop of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. on Washington ave., Chelsea, when a half ton of iron which was being hoisted became loosened and fell upon him.

Fossil Gold Mine 'Proves' Evolution

Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 19 (AP)—Discovery of an area said to contain "full history of evolution" in fossils, and declared to be so valuable to scientists that they would not reveal its location other than to say it is in the wilds of New Mexico, was announced here by University of California scientists.

The men, who returned with about a ton of fossils for classification, said the restricted contained specimens from every geological age from 200,000 years ago down to 100,000 years ago.

The discoverers are Prof. C. L. Camp, curator of amphibians and reptiles in the museum of vertebrate zoology, and Y. L. Vaid, book, museum collector.

This expedition found a place where the continental divide had pinched up and exposed the many ancient strata containing the fossils.

"These strata contain the fossilized bones of animals from most of the important area of the past, starting with the Permian period, more than 250,000 years ago, and continuing to the comparatively recent Miocene period, eleven to twelve million years ago," said the report the discoverers issued.

The report added that in one bed representatives of the Triassic period the first age of reptiles, were to be found remains of the reptiles, the first amphibian inhabitants of the earth. In another stratum representative of the Cretaceous period, when the reptiles had overrun the earth, were found fossils of dinosaurs, crocodiles and other ancient creatures. Later ages the Paleocene, when primitive mammals swarmed over the land, and the Miocene, when the primitive horse, the rhinoceros and other more recent animals had appeared, also were represented.

The men said they would reveal the location of the fossil area when they had collected all the specimens needed for their work. Until that time, they intend to keep it secret from a curious public which might interfere with their collecting. The expedition was financed by Miss Annie M. Alexander, a patron of the university.

PARAGUAY GOES PREPARING FOR FIGHT

Asuncion, Paraguay, Dec. 19 (AP)—Enrollment of troops continued today, although both Paraguay and Bolivia have accepted the mediation office of the Pan-American Conference in the settlement of their dispute.

Five thousand volunteers were drilled at Concepcion for immediate service. A battalion of students was formed in Asuncion. Four thousand Paraguayan who have been working in Argentina came forward for military service.

Bolivians Active in 'Defense' Preparations

La Paz, Bolivia, Dec. 19 (AP)—Despite the prospect of a peaceful settlement of Bolivia's dispute with Paraguay, various popular movements for national defense continued today.

The foreign minister, however, informed the diplomatic representatives of the countries that the government regarding the disputed district of Gran Chaco had been ordered to suspend operations. He said this order was in line with Bolivia's acceptance of the good offices of the Pan-American Conference, which is meeting in Washington.

The popular funds being collected for national defense were growing steadily. Railway men intended to gather to raise funds to buy armor plates for the army. The La Paz Chamber of Commerce is co-operating with the government and helping to control prices and avoid speculation in foodstuffs.

Pope Appeals for Peace to Bolivia, Paraguay

Rome, Dec. 19 (AP)—A letter which Pope Pius sent to the presidents of Bolivia and Paraguay in connection with his recent efforts for a peaceful solution of their border dispute was made public today. It reads:

"News which has reached us from the two republics has profoundly afflicted us, because it makes us unfortunately fear that solution of the conflict may be entrusted to arms."

"As the representative on earth of Him who with His advent brought peace and the fruit of good will, as the spiritual father of both peoples, both very dear to us, we appeal to your Christian sentiments and those of your government and people to do everything in your power in order to spare your country and humanity the scourge of war, of which it is always difficult to measure the consequences."

"In this sense, we pray and will pray to the Almighty, and it is with this wish that we send you and your entire people our paternal benediction."

Briand Sees No Need of Summoning League

Paris, Dec. 19 (AP)—Premier Briand of France, who is president of the League of Nations Council, said today that he saw no need of summoning the League of Nations Council to an agreement today that peace measures in the Western Hemisphere had removed the necessity for calling a special session of the League council.

M. Briand contemplates writing a circular letter to members of the League indicating that the League has no wish to insist upon employment of the League machinery in preventing war, and that it is only concerned in the establishment of peace.

League officials express belief that the League has been a powerful influence in the present crisis, but give great credit to the initiative and success of the Pan-American conference. They think that the League, the Pan-American conference and Argentina, all contributed to the anticipated happy outcome of the controversy.

NOTED HUB ARCHITECT TO GO ABROAD—BETTY ALDEN

Ralph Adams Cram Plans Several Months' Cruise in Mediterranean

PEOPLE GO ABROAD FOR MANY REASONS. SOME BECAUSE the vacation is in their veins and what's over the horizon beckons them on and on. To others in Continental society is another reason why smart-setters occupy palatial town houses only intermittently and are forever on the go from one spa to another. But when a widely known architect goes abroad to spend several months amid foreign haunts it's not merely sightseeing or the fashionable game that takes him across. Such a one travels with the artist's eye and a sketch book at hand.

DRESSED FOR WINTER'S PLAY HOURS
Future freshmen at Harvard, but now eagerly awaiting the advent of Kris Kringle, are the three small sons of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin P. P. Mosley of Commonwealth ave.

Benjamin and Thomas, at this stage of the growing up process seem to be bright-eyed gnomes in their warm, bright sweater outfits, playing on the sunny side of Commonwealth ave.

MRS. MOSELEY'S HOME-COM. Mrs. Mosley's homecoming was via the steamship Paris, and Benjamin, her, was on the dock to welcome his spouse after her several weeks absence. Mrs. Mosley has a delightful country home up Ipswich way, within short motoring distance from the town house, so the holidays for the youthful Mosleys may have both town and country flavor. And three such alert youngsters are all on the qui vive for the old Saint's Christmas Eve arrival.

DOING A BENEFIT IN THE grand manner is mere child's play, apparently, to some. At least Mrs. Oreston King and Mrs. William Dana Oreston gave that impression last evening at the Hollis Street Theater, so serenely untroubled were they as the grand Theater Guild evening for the Free Hospital for Women went its suave way with "Cavalcade." The size and brilliance of the audience, the decorativeness and its importance, of course, rendered these two meddlesome and others of the committee extremely happy—it's a feather in anyone's cap to be named in a benefit these days that comes out so magnificently in the "black" on the ledger.

A PART OF THE DECORATIVE NIXES was furnished by Mrs. Oreston's golden gown of aquino, and by Mrs. King's black velvet with white ermine at the shoulder. And by the stately Miss Belle Hunt, whose diamond ornaments and whose beautifully coiffed head were noticeable way down to the front of the stalls. Miss Hunt was one of the William Dana Oreston party and not far away was that constant patron of the arts, and inveterate opera goer, Franklin Benson. Whether it's the Opera House or a theater, Mr. Benson invariably occupies a favorite spot—"B on the aisle."

OTHER DECORATIVE FEATURES of the audience were Mrs. Henricks, Hallet Whitman, tall and radiant in black velvet with pearls; Mrs. A. Lynde Cochran also in black, chatting with Madame Harriet Peering whose theater gown was brilliant with mandarin green embroidery; Mrs. Horace Merriam's antique comb of shell and her handsome jewelry; Mrs. Edwin Silbey Webster's handsome diamond ring acquired in silver; and Mrs. Joseph W. Woods in a squirrel wrap over her lace frock.

THE DEBUTANTES WHO SOLD programs and over whom Mrs. Wood exercised restrained authority proved as decorative a part of the audience as there was in the entire place. Miss Mary Wiers's purchase for the picturesque in gowns was to

'Le Morte D'Arthur' Almost Real Again

Shadowy figures from Edwin A. Abbey's famous murals, "The Quest of the Holy Grail," stepped down from the walls of the Boston Public Library "to strut their hour upon the stage and then were heard no more."

One of the most beautiful passages in the present-day novel, "The Quest of the Holy Grail," by Sir Thomas Malory, was acted out in the library on Monday night by a group of actors and actresses of the Old Boston Club.

Choosing "King Arthur" as their theme, a trained choir of 25, clad in white robes, sang a beautiful song, "The Quest of the Holy Grail," which was followed by a play, "The Quest of the Holy Grail," in which the actors and actresses played the parts of the knights of the round table. The play was a beautiful production, and the actors and actresses played their parts with skill and grace.

with the New
"FINGER

CONTROL"

Greater Beauty-Larger Bodies in complete line of Fours and Sixes

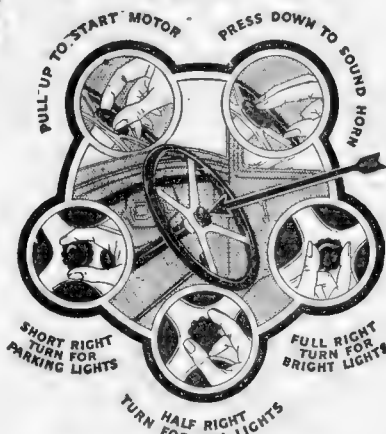

Sweeping beyond all accepted ideas of light car beauty and performance, the new Superior Whippet sets advanced high standards of its own.

The Superior Whippet is distinguished by grace of line, richness of color and artistry of finish such as have never before been associated with inexpensive cars.

With longer bodies, higher radiator and hood, sweeping full crown, one-piece fenders, new artistry of finish and perfection of detail, the Superior Whippet definitely establishes an ultra-modern style trend for Fours and Light Sixes.

Faster—liveller— more powerful

Mechanically as well as artistically the new Superior Whippet is so far ahead that it surpasses even its own predecessor. A higher compression engine gives more than 20% added horsepower, with far greater speed. Higher second gear speed gives faster pick-up. Low consumption of gas and oil, and dependable performance, result in marked operating economy and minimum service costs. Order now for early delivery.

The most notable advance in driving convenience since the self-starter

The Superior Whippet is the first car to offer the new "Finger-Tip Control"—a single button conveniently located in the center of the steering wheel, which controls all functions of starting the motor, operating the lights and sounding the horn.

This ingenious device does away with all troublesome foot fumbling for the starting button, usually located in a somewhat inaccessible position, and obviates a change from the comfortable driving position to reach the light switch on the dash.

While everyone will welcome this new feature, it will appeal particularly to women drivers. Its simple operation is clearly explained by the illustrations above.

Bigger bodies— more comfort

Maximum riding and driving comfort in the new Superior Whippet is assured by more spacious interiors, with 3 inches added leg room; wider seats, heavily upholstered, with improved contours conforming with natural body curves, longer springs both front and rear, full balloon tires and snubbers.

VOTE OF CITY COUNCILLORS CHALLENGE

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1928

To Councillors of City of Boston

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE BOSTON CITY COUNCIL:
Certain among you, in a gesture at justifying your vote against professional Sunday sports, have declared that your only motive was to protect the people of Boston against exploitation by the owners of the Red Sox and the Braves, the only two major league clubs in Boston.

If you had kept yourselves informed about facts you would have known that Mr. Robert Quinn, president of the Red Sox, has declared in a radio speech that the price of admission to professional baseball games on Sunday would not be advanced a single penny. As representatives of the people of your respective wards you should have known this.

Mr. Emil Fuchs, president of the Boston Braves, has, no less than three times, stated publicly that the Braves would not advance the price of admission to Sunday games a single penny.

Printed on these pages is a letter from Mr. Fuchs. This should be sufficient assurance that the people, whose interests are so scrupulously represented, will not be jeopardized by your vote on the Sunday sports' resolution.

When the people who elect you see that your professional football sports, by what right do you presume to oppose their wishes? Point out one single instance, if you can, where major league ball clubs have advanced admission fees by a single penny for Sunday games.

Hyman T. Goldhamer.
American Sports, December 18, 1928.
The Boston American, Boston, Mass.

I am very glad that you called my attention to what is either an alibi, or a legitimate argument, to the effect that the hesitation on the part of some citizens in supporting the Sunday sports measure is due to an allegation that the major league ball clubs in this State will raise the prices of Sunday games here.

During the campaign I answered that question as far as the Braves were concerned, and stated positively:

First—That the prices will be exactly the same as they are on week days and Saturday;

Second—That in the history of Sunday baseball throughout the United States, no major league baseball club has charged an extra price for Sunday.

Having given wide publicity to that stand, I now am glad to reaffirm it and pledge the dub to that cause, and I also desire to repeat that the question of the major leagues' fortune or misfortune is not the entire question involved.

The minor leagues, the Twilight and Massachusetts leagues, the independent ball clubs of Massachusetts and the American Legion Boys' Clubs are entirely dependent for their self-support on Sunday afternoon baseball. Their very existence depends upon it, and I beg you to believe that the ladies and gentlemen who support this measure are as much concerned in their welfare as they are in the welfare of the higher classifications in baseball.

Sincerely yours,
EMIL FUCHS,
President.

Inexperience Beat "Tuffy" Griffith

By FRANK O. MENKE
Gerald Ambrose, otherwise "Tuffy" Griffith, had everything a fighter needs to achieve enduring greatness—everything except the knowledge of how to conduct himself when unceremoniously plattered upon the canvas.

The men who tutored this young fellow in boxing and boxing, and uppers, and fells and all sorts of overworked schooling him on the ring, and that blunder cost him a fight, made him a knockout and stopped him right on the threshold of Tommy Loughran's championship.

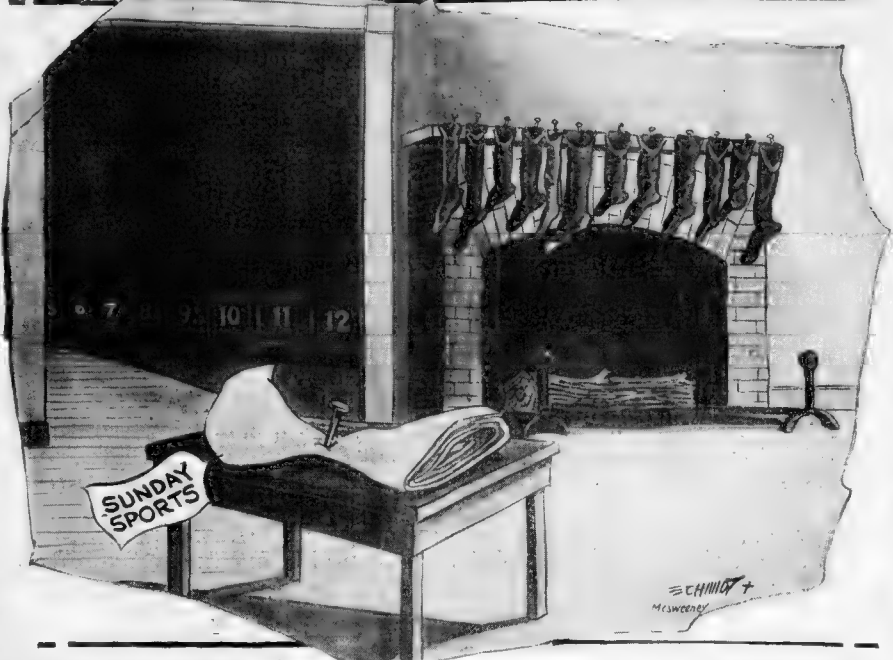

Way back in my younger years I wandered into a gymnasium and small and obscure, with only two fighters in the whole place and an old timer refereeing their bout. All of a sudden he yelled:

"Now look around—look for the other man. Now you've got him spotted! Fine! The count is 'five'—start picking yourself up—now it's 'three'—that's fine—get on one knee. Now it's 'one'—look at your feet for instructions—now look at your feet."

Council Will Hold Special Session

The regular meeting two days ago. A note of optimism pervaded City Hall so far as ultimate success of the Sunday Sports order was concerned.

The change over night was almost magical. Some of the councillors resented Mayor Nichols' entry into the Sunday Sports fight, but a few of them administration sympathizers, but the mayor's prompt defense of the measure helped to save the day, nevertheless.

The swift publicity given to the matter by the Boston Evening American had a tremendous psychological effect, and when the rank and file of councillors read that the mayor had avowed his willingness to lead the fight they sat up and took notice.

In justice to Councillor Green of Charlestown, whisper of the City Council, and to some of his colleagues, it should be said that they favored the Sunday sports order from the outset.

President Green welcomed the protest of an outraged public to-day and just no time in taking advantage of it.

Councillor Green was at City Hall early, accompanied by Councillor Daniel P. Ward, Jr. and Maj. Charles G. Keene of West Roxbury and Roslindale. Councillors Kelly and Keene also accompanied President Green.

In notifying the other councillors of Friday's meeting and were later joined by Councillor Albert A. Fish of Ward 14.

The four councillors on deck today expressed the view that the order would be adopted without further friction.

"In the contrary, quite a few were in the same position that I was in," said President Green, "because I consider that the Sunday sports order warrants it. I regard it as a matter of major importance. If any one doubts it, let him sit on the fence and let a city councillor's name be on it."

"I was not at all day yesterday," said President Green, "but I would have taken it easy, climbed leisurely into a kneeling position, looked to his corner for instructions, located the exact spot where Bradlock was standing, taken 'mine' and then jumped up, faced the Bradlock runner, slammed it, and sent him home with a teacher."

But, as it happened, Griffith hit the floor, bounced around, got up all rattled and confused, and then Bradlock, until Bradlock had banged him some savage jabs and floored him again.

Somerville Track Prospects Good

By DICK McSWEENEY
The Christmas spirit has given track at Somerville high school a temporary setback, for the would-be sprinters and weight hurriers are working these pleasant afternoons to earn money for the holidays.

Enough candidates, however, have appeared so that Coach Dickerman believes that he will have a successful season.

John Hayes, captain of the football team, was one of those who reported to Coach Dickerman at Dilworth Field for preliminary workouts.

Hayes is a first year boy in the high school and has been working out for some time.

REGULAR DOUBLES AND REDOUTLES
A COMPLETE discussion of the subject of Liberal Declarations will require too much space for a single article. Consequently only irregular doubles and redoubles are here to be considered.

A double or redouble out of turn is void unless the opponent to the left of the offender declares before the proper bidder declares or before any player calls attention to the offense.

When the out-of-turn double or redouble is void, the auction proceeds from the declaration of the proper bidder and the partner of the offender is barred from further participation in the auction. But if the partner of the offender is the proper bidder, the opponents may consult before declaring further and may elect (1) to call the bid made before the offense the final bid, or (2) to call the double or redouble the final bid.

When the opponent on the left declares before the out-of-turn double or redouble is called, the auction continues from that declaration and there is no penalty.

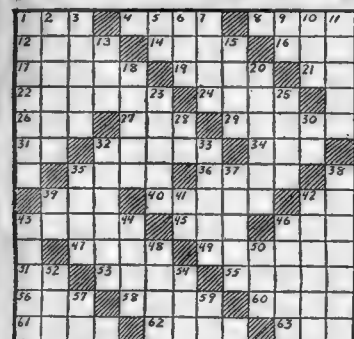

A double or redouble made before a bid has been made is a double or redouble out of turn and is penalized as such.

A double or redouble made after the auction is ended is void. It is not penalized if made by Declarer or his partner, but if made by an adversary, Declarer may call a lead.

There are hundreds of public cases.

ABOUT INDEPENDENCE

By BRUNO LESSING

THESE are an old story about a little boy who went to school and did not like his teacher because he was too strict. The teacher's name was Bots and he had a red beard. So the little boy ran away from school and stole a ride on a freight train. Along came a trainman with a red beard who said that his name was Bots and who kicked the boy off the train.

Then the little boy got a job in a grocery store and for a few days he always found out there was a big, fat, red beard who was Bots. And, finally, he learned that all the Mr. Botses with red beards were brothers. And, as long as he had to be teased by any one of them, he preferred his teacher. So he went back to school.

The writer was reminded of this story by overhearing a conversation in a restaurant.

"Thank God," said one speaker, "I'm through! No more worrying for me." I've saved my life. My wife and my wife inherited a little

The W. U. booklet is a very handy encyclopedia of lastness.

The idea of Christmas is to think of others.

The W. U. saves you the trouble of thinking.

Writing a telegram is almost a profession.

First, you think of what you are going to say. Then you think you won't.

After separating the impulse from the reaction, you then get your pencil in your mouth and do the tip in your ear.

HELP CHILD GROW

By CONSTANCE CAMERON

THE raucous tone of the woman across the street stabbed my ears. "Come in here this minute," "STOP that right away," "DON'T do that!" All day, everyday you can hear her nagging and scolding at her three children with never a smile for any of them at any time. Childhood is so short, and in so little time we find that even though many people will be polite to us, invite us to their table and hear us, so very few of them REALLY WANT us. Why start pounding it in when our most treasured quality as little children?

Childhood should be happy, and it is appalling to me to see the sad little faces which peer out at the world. Every baby should be smiling and jolly, and inasmuch as every baby and child is the reflection of his home, it is within the power of parents to make life a grand good time, at least while the children are at home.

I know a mother who is so conscientious that she goes into a brown study every time she looks at her six-year-old son. She enzes at him solemnly, seriously, thoughtfully, mentally tabulating his "no action" to this, that or some other thing. As a result he goes back at her solemnly, and at the rest of the family's merriment.

In some ways the old-fashioned fathers were hand and shoulder above the modern ones for happy use and life and the home?

Our babies may be red in a more scientific manner, regarded "thick" more conscious knowledge when we are trying to do for them which is all right. But why must we forget how to live with them, laugh with them, plan with them in their own way and allow them to enjoy us and life and the home?

By the way, what is the name of the new Vice President of the Aggie Club?

Somebody ought to find him and tell him that the inauguration is March 4.

The Old League of Nations Crowd

THE old League of Nations crowd is back on the job advocating for the Senate to ratify the Kellogg "multilateral peace treaty," immediately and unconditionally, without dotting an i or crossing a t.

It is time for the country and for the Senate to examine any foreign treaty very carefully when its leading supporters include the old familiar faces of men who have fought and continue to fight to drag the United States into the European league.

There are plenty of these faces in the group that on Monday morning addressed a "multi-signed" letter to Senator Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee of the United States Senate, urging "ratification of the multilateral pact of Paris, commonly known as the Kellogg treaty, without reservation, as early as may be possible in the present session of the Senate."

The list of signers is headed by the name of George W. Wickersham, attorney for the international bankers and one of the two leading league propagandists in the country. Then we read the names of two outstanding league advocates who were members of President Wilson's pro-league cabinet: Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of War, and Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy. The list continues with a roster of nationally-known League of Nations advocates and internationalists, such as President John Grier Hibben of Princeton, Edwin A. Alderman of the University of Virginia, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Charles F. Thwing, Harry Emerson Fosdick and Dr. Mary E. Woolley of Mount Holyoke College.

These pro-leaguers and internationalists, in their letter to Senator Borah, insist that rejection of the pact by the Senate "WOULD SHOCK THE SENSIBILITIES OF MANKIND."

Just so, President Wilson, telling the Senate to sign the covenant of the League of Nations, said that their failure to do so "WOULD BREAK THE HEART OF THE WORLD."

The heart of the world has gone on beating fairly well without the United States having joined an agreement to participate in all the earthly quarrels of foreign imperialisms.

The heart of Europe, while unbroken, has in the meantime become inconceivably embittered against the United States. Europe's feeling was recently expressed in London when the dean of St. Paul's said that in a certain contingency "IT IS MORE THAN POSSIBLE THAT THE NATIONS OF EUROPE, ENRAGED BY THE BLOATED PROSPERITY AND AIRS OF SUPERIORITY OF THE MAN WHO WON THE WAR, WILL COMBINE TO DRAW SHYLOCK'S TEETH."

It is significant and ominous that the pro-league advocates of "the multilateral pact of Paris" insist we must sign it without any reservation. The Senate must not tell the world that the United States reserves the right to wage defensive war in enforcement of the Monroe Doctrine, which for a hundred years has warned European aggressors away from this hemisphere.

Yet Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign minister, publicly warned our Ambassador Houghton in a letter of May 19 that GREAT BRITAIN RESERVES THE RIGHT TO GO TO WAR IN DEFENSE OF HER DOCTRINES AND HER REGIONAL INTERESTS.

Sir Austen Chamberlain wrote: "I should remind Your Excellency that there are certain regions in the world, the welfare and integrity of which constitute a special and vital interest for our peace and safety. His Majesty's government has been at pains to make it clear in the past that interference with these regions cannot be suffered. Their protection against the pact is to the British empire a measure of self-defense, and it must be clearly understood that His Majesty's government in Great Britain accept the main treaty upon the distinct understanding that it does not prejudice their freedom of action in this respect."

By a strange and interesting coincidence, a second letter, signed by many prominent names, was sent to Washington by the League of Nations crowd on Monday. They presented a memorial addressed to the Senate of the United States, urging Senators to vote against the cruiser bill now pending. This memorial ends: "Whatever may be the merits of the American position as to the question of naval disarmament, it must be clear to every observer that the initiation of a new building program at this time will inevitably imperil the wholesome effect of the general pact for the renunciation of war and will give other nations occasion to question America's sincerity. We therefore urge our representatives in the Senate to vote against the cruiser bill and for the general pact for renunciation of war."

Who signs this memorial? It is headed by John H. Clarke, who resigned his position as United States Supreme Court justice TO DEVOTE HIS LIFE TO GETTING THE UNITED STATES INTO THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS AND WHO AT THE PRESENT TIME IS PRESIDENT OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS NON-PARTISAN ASSOCIATION OF THE UNITED STATES.

Other signatures include such well-known league advocates and internationalists as Carrie Chapman Catt, Harry Emerson Fosdick, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, W. H. P. Fauce, John Grier Hibben, Mary E. Woolley, David Starr Jordan, Charles F. Thwing and Ivy Lee. THE LATTER BEING THE PAID PUBLICITY AGENT OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS AND OTHER INTERNATIONALIST MOVEMENTS IN THE COUNTRY.

The Senate should let the multilateral pact of Paris alone. The United States has enough to do, staying at home and minding its own business. If the Senate needed a warning, they certainly have got it when, on the same day, the same crowd of League of Nations rosters urges them to sign a suspicious multilateral pact of Paris and reject President Coolidge's bill for building cruisers that will give us a semblance of parity with the other great naval powers of the world.

The Silent Enemy

The big tulip tree at the entrance began to wane and wither months ago. But nobody bothered about it.

When the gardener finally discovered the cause and sprayed for terrapin scale, the damage was irrevocably done.

All the white pines on the hillside are dying from blister sprayed by currant and gooseberry bushes which should never have been planted in the neighborhood.

The specimen spruce on the drive has landed in the wood cellar. It might have been saved last Fall if observing eyes had noted a browning tip and cut off that leader before the beetle eggs deposited there hatched and burrowed.

The four finest ashes on the property will never be the same since borers attacked them.

Regular examination would have detected where the grubs had nibbled under the bark, and dug them out before they had girdled so many limbs.

These are characteristic happenings in every bit of woodland, and this is why estates go timber-bare—and forests are filled with gaunt, gray ghosts of lousy oaks and flaming maples.

We'd have twice as much timber if we had half as much negligence.

America is learning the importance of forestry at a very late and costly hour.

We've just begun to find how trees, like human beings and businesses, die from overlooked trifles.

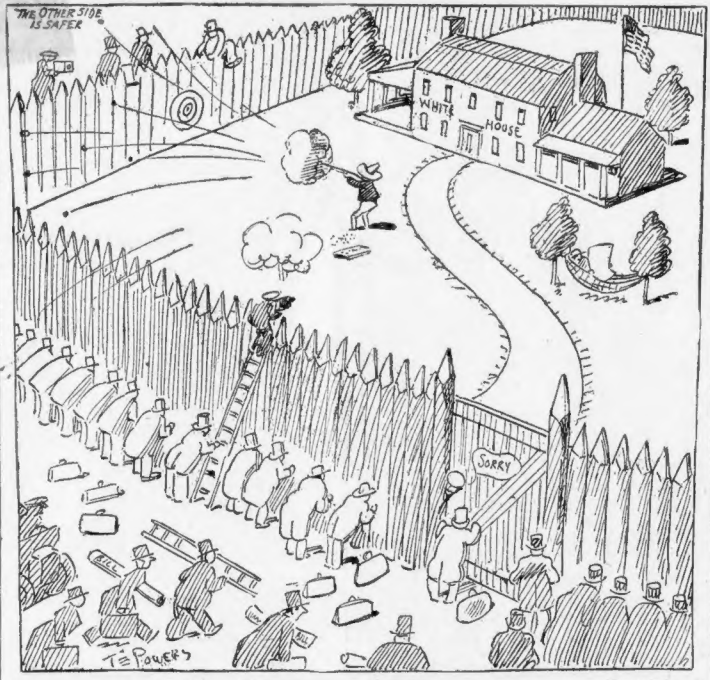

Fatality comes in small and subtle packages—in mites and microbes—in sneaking, silent hordes which man must control or perish.

Cables shudder at the havoc of floods and earthquake, but all the ruin wrought by Ennas, hurricanes and tidal waves are flea bites beside the devastation stupidly permitted by a strange kink of human nature which measures menace by its dramatic aspect oftener than by its extent.

The supreme adventures of salvage are reserved for the pest detective, the magnifying lens and the spray-gun.

And until their job is done, billions won't begin to cover the yearly loss sustained by these United States through the asinine parsimony of State and Federal budgets, that lose a thousand at the leakhole for every penny they save at the spigot.

Better Put a Fence Around It By T. E. Powers

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

SOMEONE writes bitterly, "I look for them. Oddly enough, they are often found in the very people whom we had judged to be weak and treacherous. Having found them, we can respond with love and trust—if we so decide."

Trust isn't about us as it doesn't just happen to mature, critical people. It is something we must deliberately choose for ourselves. And we can choose it if we wish. We can deliberately choose to ignore usefulness and fix our eyes upon beauty. That doesn't mean that we will remain ignorant of usefulness or eliminate it by our attitude. It simply means that we will have chosen to look upon the swiftest side of life.

And this seems to me the only procedure worthy of an intelligent human being. Why should we explore and expect the grove in life when we have our choice and may explore and expect the fine?

Why drink at muddy springs when clear water is available? After all, who are we to be in judgment on our fellow men? On we tell why a white dress burns the hairy life of the city cousin to the ape? We can't. They may not take a chance on the poor blundering ape. Why do I trust him to make good? God did. I trust him. King Features Synd. Inc.

New York Day by Day

NEW YORK, Dec. 19—No other human beings are quite so self-centered as the denizens of Broadway. It lives, moves and has its headlines between Columbus Circle and Herald Square. To its fortunate wayfarers it is the Main Stem of the Universe—the Big Apple and the goal of earthly travels.

Just this morning one of the so-called philosophers in comment upon the "take-leave" of a certain "it" of Broadway in this column observed: "But Broadway has known that for weeks." It was suggested that the little crowd that might be so, but perhaps the rest of the world did not.

"Who cares about the rest of the world?" was the tart rejoinder. And he was sincere. The favorite laugh for the White Way rounder concerns the white-robed gentlemen from Okinawa who are rolled for his wad in the "take-leave" makes a first payment on Brooklyn bridge.

To the sensible New Yorker Broadway is an interesting section, just as Fifth Ave., the Bowery or Lenox Ave., but for the little mind who cling to it like barnacles it is the top of the world—the axis upon which the spheres revolve.

A good fellow on Broadway as expressed in his "bonita," "I'm not in the middle of the world" together in speech-making room to sing "Dear Old Pal of mine" with most eyes.

But it is the latter sentimentality about Broadway is glib with its "it was a good fellow" when he had it, but is looking out the window when some "good fellow" comes a crop. Arnold Rothstein was a good fellow. The legends of a half world charity were profuse. But one lonely carriage followed him to his last resting place.

Yet it is amazing how many are victims of this strange Broadway hypnotism. The rest of the Cal'vin for his climate is in no way comparable to the Broadway for the rest of the world, as the rest of the world is only a little better than the rest of the world.

PAUL WHITEHEAD has shown what diet can do toward making "the way of all flesh."

He has also celebrated his birthday with his covey of chins, was lovely, lovely, lovely, and thus make up that time. I tried to pick him up on one of those little things. He could not get in the door.

His ballooning was so rapid new clothes had to be made every month. Then he went on a diet. His breakfast was a cup of black coffee and a thin slice of wheat toast, his lunch a bowl of soup and his dinner a small piece of steak and two vegetables. He walked five miles daily. In this valiant struggle he lost 50 pounds and is now as fit as his well-known child. But always hungry.

THIS "celebrity dinner" is receiving a new break. Once upon a time an agency made a poorly conceived engineering, but with prohibiting people began to do their drinking at home. Invitations were sent to the "celebrity" and the "celebrity" came back. This winter there have been a number of them. Curiously speculating to five authors per person may have had something to do with the restoration.

SOMEONE has introduced in the banquet room at one of the new hotels. A man and woman are in charge. He is in full evening dress and she is in a smart evening frock. It becomes almost impossible to resist to dine tipping in presence of such elegance. With Rogers was overcome by merely shook hands and invited them to rest.

THIS man who invented the hat check system, by the way, is John Laffer, who introduced it at Tony Pastor's in 1897. But what is more remarkable, the gentleman is still alive.

A LARGE New York department store has a big sale every month and offers a number of "bargain" articles at prices far below cost. The store says: "Many who would not otherwise visit the store drop in, are attracted to buy little articles, and thus make up the sale."
